FRANCESCO PENNI.

- 76 THE VIRGIN AND CHILD AND ST. ELIZABETH, under rich architecture. This scholar of Raffaello worked latterly with Pierino del Vaga, and followed his Master as well as M. Angelo. An engraving by Marc Antonio exists of this subject. From Mr. Solly's Collection

SIMONE MEMMI.

- 77 ST. URSULA, holding two palms, signs of her double martyrdom. This and the companion are described by Dr. Waagen "as the most beautiful works of this great Master preserved to us." From the Collection of Mr. Ottley

SIMONE MEMMI.

- 78 A YOUTHFUL SAINT, with a sword, palm, and olive branch, in blue and red drapery. From the same Collection

COSIMO ROSELLI.

- 79 AN ALTAR PIECE. The Virgin enthroned with the Child on her knee, in the act of blessing an angel holding flowers; on each side, behind, and in front, St. Andrew, St. John the Baptist, St. Bartholomew, and St. Zenobio. Dated MCCCCXXXIII, die XXVIII. Novēbris. From the Fesch Collection. Exhibited at Manchester, 1857

“A genuine picture of the earlier and better time of this Master.”
—Waagen, iii. 376.

SANDRO BOTTICELLI.

- 80 WHOLE-LENGTH FIGURE OF VENUS HOLDING A GARLAND OF ROSES, the hair painted in gold. From the Palazzo Ferroni, in Florence 1850.—Waagen, Supp. p. 167

LEONARDO DA VINCI.

- 81 THE VIRGIN AND CHILD: the landscape on each side the curtain shows the Lake of Como and the snowy Alps. This picture was painted in the early part of Leonardo's residence at Milan.—Waagen, vol. iii. and Supp. 167.

“Vient ensuite celle de la Collection Bromley, un des plus précieux trésors d'art que possède l'Angleterre, d'une délicatesse de touche et d'un fini d'exécution qui ne laissent rien je ne dis pas à désirer, mais même à imaginer de plus parfait.”—Riv's Life of Leonardi, p. 198.

VELAZQUEZ.

- 82 THE ANGELS APPEARING TO THE SHEPHERDS. Painted at Seville at the same time as the picture in the National Gallery, and the ‘Aguador’ in the Duke of Wellington's Collection, with both of which it fully agrees. From the Collection of Louis Philippe, and purchased for him by Baron Taylor from the Count D'Aguilar. See Stirling Cat. of Spanish painters.—Waagen, iii.

- 84 THE VIRGIN WITH THE INFANT SEATED ON A THRONE, with two angels above, St. Peter and St. Paul on either side. Signed "In Capite Castri Julius de Amendula pinxit." It is supposed that no other picture of this Master exists. From the Fesch Collection

SANDRO BOTTICELLI.

- 85 THE VIRGIN AND CHILD, surrounded by five youthful saints, a rose-tree behind them and landscape background.
From the Collection of Cardinal Fesch. Exhibited in the British Institution in 1860

BERNARDO ORCAGNA, 1315-76.

- 86 A GRAND ALTAR-PIECE: the Crucifixion, with angels above, the Maries and St. John at the foot of the cross; soldiers on horseback and others on foot casting lots; in the wings are St. Lawrence, St. Andrew, St. Bartholomew, St. George, St. Paul, St.
Peter, St. Stephen, St. James; above is the Deity and the four Evangelists; it is inscribed "Bernardus pinxit me quem Florentiæ Finsit A.D. MCCCXLVIII." He painted with his brother
Andrea, in the Campo Santo at Pisa. The Virgin and Child and four attendant angels, in chiaro-oscuro, are painted on the back of three of the panels

“This work agrees in every respect with Giotto’s well-known picture in Sta Croce, Florence.”—Waagen, vol. iii. p. 371.

From the Fesch Collection. Exhibited at Manchester, 1857

BENOZZO GOZZOLI.

- 149 THE VIRGIN SEATED WITH THE INFANT; five attendant angels above, and two with musical instruments at her feet. This is identical in treatment, and the same subject with the Gozzoli, in the National Gallery, No. 283. Both are after a picture by Fra Angelico

GAUDENZIO DI FERRARA.

- 150 THE ASSUMPTION OF THE VIRGIN: she is surrounded by angels playing on instruments; a group of the apostles below. From the Collection of Count Cesare, of Milan, who purchased it at the Academia Sale, at Venice, 1839

LO SPAGNA.

- 151 THE CRUCIFIXION, WITH MANY FIGURES. This picture came from Spoleto, where he latterly painted, and it has much of the influence of his master, Perugino. At the back of the picture is a printed Diario, or Order for Ceremonies, by the Archbishop of Spoleto. From the Collection of Cardinal Fesch

A. POLLAIUOLO.

- 152 A TRIUMPH, with female captives. From the Capponi Palace, Florence, in its original frame, with the arms of the family

ANDREA DEL SARTO.

- 154 PORTRAIT OF SANNAZZARO, contemplating a skull. Upon this magnificent portrait is inscribed "Tengo la morte in mano perche il morire con carita e l'amore e il mio."

BARTOLOMES SUARDO (IL BRAMANTINO).

- 155 THE ADORATION OF THE KINGS. The name given to this picture in the Fesch sale is here retained, but there are no works of this Master remaining with which to compare it. It has characteristics of the early School of Piedmont. It is known that Gaudenzo Ferrari, before he saw Raffaelle, painted with highly relieved ornaments, as we find in Pinturicchio and other Masters of that time. Waagen, vol. iii.

NICOLA DI PIETRO.

- 156 AN ALTAR, OF GOTHIC FORM. In the centre is the Coronation of the Virgin, with attendant angels; below are five angels; on one side, St. Stephen and St. Lawrence; on the other, St. John the Baptist and St. John the Evangelist; on the corner-pillars, St. Bartholomew, St. Francis, St. Sylvester, St. Anthony, St. Domenic, and St. Augustine. Painted as inscribed for the Convent of St. Stephano in Ploro, near Florence. Dated MCCCCVIII., and purchased there by Mr. Davenport Bromley in 1844. Waagen, vol. iii.

MARCO PALMEZZANO DA FORLI.

- 157 THE VIRGIN ENTHRONED, holding the Child, who stands on her lap, in the act of blessing : on the right, St. John the Baptist ; on the left, St. Lucia. Mantegna's influence shows itself in St. John and in the chiaro-oscuro frieze. Inscribed "Marcus Palmezzanus Pictor Foroleuensis, 1508." This picture is in his first and best manner, before he followed the Venetian School in his old age. From the Collection of Cardinal Fesch, who had it from the Ercolani Gallery, at Bologna. Waagen, iii. See Bryant—'Palmezzano.'

TADDEO GADDI.

- 158 THE VIRGIN WITH THE INFANT, seated on a throne ; two angels below presenting lilies

ANTONIO BOLTRAFFIO.

- 159 THE VIRGIN AND CHILD

"A most beautiful picture of this rare Master, quite imbued with the spirit of his master, Leonardo da Vinci."—Waagen, iii. 201.

AMBROSIO BORGOGNONE.

- 160 THE VIRGIN WITH THE INFANT, seated on a throne, with infant angels above, and St. John the Baptist and the Evangelist on either side, under rich architecture. Two angels are seated on the side of the throne, playing on musical instruments, and two angels holding a crown over the head of the Madonna. The pictures of this Master, who lived at the close of the 15th century, are very rare. This fine work was taken from the church of the Dominicans at Savona. See Rio's Life of Leonardo. From the Collection of M. de Bammerville.

BARTOLOMEO MONTAGNA (OF VICENZA), 1480.

- 161 THE CRUCIFIXION, and procession to Calvary; the Virgin and other figures and soldiers casting lots at the foot of the cross
 "An excellent picture by this rare Vicenza Master."—Waagen, iii. 201.
From Lord Northwick's Collection.

GIROLAMO COTIGNOLA.

- 162 AN ALTAR-PIECE: The Ascension of the Virgin, from the Duomo at Pesaro. Above is the Almighty, in the centre the Virgin, and beneath are the portraits of Costanza Sforza, second Prince of Pesaro, and his mother and St. Catherine. On the wheel is signed "Jeronimus Cotignol," and below "Junipera Sfortia Patria a marito recepta ex voto P. MCCCCCVIII." On either side are a bishop and St. Girolamo. Dr. Waagen writes, "This date and the whole style of this in every respect remarkable picture show that the Master executed it before he went to Rome, where he became a scholar of Raffaelle." Waagen, vol. iii. 379. Described at large by Lauzi. From Mr. Solly's Collection

BERNARDINO PINTURICCHIO.

- 163 THE TROJAN HORSE BROUGHT INTO THE CITY, which is here represented by Florence. Painted at the time when the artist and Raffaelle were fellow-students. From the Collection of Mr. Woodburn

BERNARDINO PINTURICCHIO.

- 164 THE DEATH OF HECTOR, from the Palazzo Albizzi. This and the foregoing Cassone agree in form and treatment with the two well-known Cassone by Pinturicchio in the Borghese Palace. From the same Collection

FILIPPINO LIPPI.

- 165 PORTRAIT OF LA SIMONETTA, in a crimson and white dress, with pearls and a veil. The arms of the Sodenni family are emblazoned on the background. La Simonetta is thus described by Vasari:—"Una giovine e bella donna di collo notabilmente lungo." Dr. Waagen attributes this portrait to A. Pollajuolo, and confirms this opinion in his Supplement ; but it is generally considered that the treatment agrees entirely with that of Phillipino Lippi. From the Collection of Mr. Rogers, where it was called Verrochio

SANDRO BOTTICELLI.

- 166 THE VIRGIN AND CHILD, surrounded by four angels—circle. From the Collection of Mr. Solly, exhibited at the British Institution, 1859. Waagen, iii.

ANDREA SCHIAVONE.

- 167 THE BIRTH OF ST. JOHN, with many figures. Waagen, Supp. 168

LOUIS VARGAS.

- 168 THE VIRGIN AND CHILD, in a glory of angels. In the centre below St. Michael subduing the devil, and on either side are portraits of a knight, of St. Jago and his wife, and other figures. This Master studied in Italy for several years with Perino da Vaga. From the Collection of Louis Philippe. Waagen, iii.

LEONARDO DA VINCI.

- 169 THE VIRGIN AND CHILD, the latter standing. From Lord Northwick's Collection

Dr. Waagen writes:—"This picture, ascribed to Ghirlandaio, may, I am convinced, be by Leonardo previous to his going to Milan." M. Rio, in his 'Life of Leonardo,' writes:— "Il y a d'abord celle de Lord Northwick dans, laquelle on n'hésite pas à reconnaître un ouvrage de la première manière de Léonardo."—Life of Leonardo, p. 28.

In the standing child may be seen a resemblance to Verrochio, the master of Leonardo.

SANDRO BOTTICELLI.

- 170 WHOLE-LENGTH FIGURE OF VENUS. Purchased by Mr. Davenport Bromley, at Florence, 1844. Waagen, Supp. p. 166.

LUIGI VIVARINI.

- 171 THE VIRGIN AND CHILD—the island of Murano in the background. The pictures by this Master, who was the best of the three brothers, are extremely rare

PESELLO PESELLI, 1380–1457.

172 THE HOLY TRINITY

"The centre picture of the still existing masterpiece of this admirable and little-known master which, according to Vasari, he executed for the church of St. Jacopo, in Pistoia."—Waagen, vol. iii. Vasari: Life of Pesello

GIOTTO.

- 173 OUR SAVIOUR RECEIVING THE SOUL OF THE VIRGIN, who is lying on a couch in the centre, surrounded by the Saviour, St. Joseph, St. John, and attendant saints and angels. The picture is thus described by Vasari:—

"Una tavolina dipinta da Giotto a tempera, con infinita diligenza, dentro la quale era la morte di nostra Donna, con li Apostoli intorno, e con un Christo chi in braccio l'anima di lei riceveva ; era molto lodata da Mic-Angelo, e stata poi levata Via da chi che sia."

From the Fesch Collection. Exhibited at the British Institution, 1857

FILIPPO LIPPI.

174 THE VIRGIN AND CHILD AND ST. JOHN—a garden of roses in the background
